

2023-2024 Society for the Study of Social Problems
Annual Report from the Membership and Outreach Committee
Submitted on July 16, 2023 by Andrea D. Miller

Chair: Andrea D. Miller, Webster University (2023-2024 by special election)

Members: Morena Tartari (2021-2024), Christina Barmon (2022-2025), Jacqueline M. Zalewski (2022-2025), Teresa Irene Gonzalez (2023-2026), Korey Tillman (2023-2026), Greer Hamilton (Student Rep 2021-2024), Kenya L. Goods (2022-2025) and Jasmine S. Buenviaje (2023-2026).

As of June 30, 2024, the following three divisions of SSSP are the largest in terms of membership:

- Critical Race and Ethnic Study: 414 2023+ members, of these 269 are 2024 members
- Poverty, Class and Inequality: 242 2023+ members, of these 152 are 2024 members
- Gender: 227 2023+ members, of these 147 are 2024 members

These 3 divisions remain the largest from last year.

Promotional Efforts, 2023-2024

2024 Member Campaign

We were thrilled with the results of this year's promotional campaign which kicked off on Jan 8th 2024. First-time memberships were $50 and student memberships were $33. Here is the link to the content: <https://www.sssp1.org/membershippromo/>

While there is much data to peruse on the spreadsheet, a few overall takeaways is that this campaign resulted in 270 members. One thing to keep in mind as we go into the Annual Meeting is that graduate students are one of our largest groups and over the last few years they have continued to decrease so the committee suggests that the 2024-2025 focus on graduate student recruitment mainly through the Graduate Student Spotlight and the promotional campaigns. In sum, our targeted promotional campaigns for new members and student members are well suited to continue to grow our most viable recruitment categories. (See attached charts for the noted decrease over time in graduate student enrollment, especially after 2021 and why the committee continues to pinpoint this group).

Social Media

Posting to X and Facebook is where a lot of our individual committee members do their work— with some posting multiple times and crafting unique content. Without having access to specific analytics, I can comment on some engagement.

- For X we have 6.1 K followers. For each of our specific outreach posts we reached a high of 420 views in May 2023 and a lower reception of 182 views in January.
- Backend analytics for X might reveal more insight on retweets, etc.
- Our Facebook page boasts 4.6K followers and 4.5K likes.

- Administrators could get more specific numbers on what posts do best if that is helpful for the 2024-2025 committee.
- “Liking” posts on FB may not be an effective way to “count” engagement since most likes on each post are below 5 even though we have 4.6K followers.
- There is a private FB group for members of SSSP that has 400 + members but the committee does not officially post to this but might be an alternative for recruitment if our main page is not getting enough engagement.

Graduate Student Spotlight

After speaking via telephone to Greer Hamilton on July 16, 2024 she was able to fill me in on the pilot “Graduate Student Spotlight Program” that she was a part of at the inception in 2022. According to Greer every quarter the graduate student assigned to the spotlight (with a $150 stipend) would interview a graduate student member and post the interview to the Student Spotlight tab on the SSSP webpage (The only “spotlight” completed was done by Greer and posted on Sept 2023 and remains on the website). Here are “steps” that the pilot-program created for the “student spotlight”: In 2022, the Graduate Student Spotlight was approved as a pilot program. (1) The Graduate Student Representatives selects several students to be highlighted on the SSSP website (solicited through a nomination process, including self-nominations). Greer mentioned that she contacted the division chairs of SSSP to pass along their graduate student representatives and she started from there). (2) The graduate student representative conducts a short interview with the graduate student, with emphasis on their scholarly work, and a selection of that interview is transcribed and featured on the website with their picture. (3) This website entry is then promoted on social media. (4) Additionally, the featured graduate student does a takeover of SSSP’s social media for a day. Greer mentioned that she thought posting every quarter was manageable but felt that there needed to be more than one person assigned and that the stipend could be split. Greer and former student reps have already created interview questions that I will attach here so that this program does not get waylaid for another year.

More about Interviewee questions:

- Tell me about yourself (this can be personal interests, professional, a combination of the two- whatever would be helpful for the SSSP community to know about yourself).

Academic related questions

- You are currently pursuing a PhD in Sociology
 - You have a focus on _____. What made you interested in studying this?

- What's your research lens for your work?
- What are you hoping your work contributes to?
- What's the best part of graduate school?
- What are you hoping to do after you graduate from your program?
- What is the one thing you wish you'd known when you started graduate school that might be helpful for incoming graduate students to know?

SSSP Related Questions

- How did you first hear about the Society for the Study of Social Problems?
 - What made you want to join SSSP and your specific Division?
 - Are you a member of any other Divisions? If so, which ones?

- What are you working on outside of your academic requirements?

Suggestions for the 2024-2025 committee

- Focus on Graduate-Student Spotlight (see above) every quarter—this means a goal of 4 graduate students per year.
- Much of my time as chair has been spent on coordinating schedules and reviewing social media blasts for X and Facebook. This is fine and is needed but looking to the future the committee may want to prioritize graduate students and thus split the membership committee up into different tasks. This might mean that graduate students on the committee focus on the Graduate Student Spotlight and leave the social media blasts to share in the 12 social media blasts (Jan-Dec).
- Consider adding another platform for social media blasts such as Instagram or building our presence on LinkedIn (as of now we have 88 followers) Again, we need to ask the graduate students where they are with social media and perhaps SSSP data can tell us if they are using FB or X or finding new platforms like Threads. If we look at engagement on these platforms, X seems to be getting more use but some data analytics need to be done by those who have the passwords to pageviews as we cannot go by likes on FB.
- If I had another year I would have communicated more using Zoom rather than email. I feel like I lost out on engagement using only email. It is difficult to brainstorm and enact new ideas when we are not all in the same shared space. Email works when everyone knows the assigned tasks but not when the tasks need to be newly created.

The chair would like to thank all committee members as well as Michele Koontz, Elroi J. Windsor, and Rachel Cogburn for their additional support.

*The membership voted on the new dues amounts in August 2018. This increase went into effect in August 2018 for the 2019 membership year. Some members had already joined or renewed for the 2019 membership year according to the previous dues amounts, so some 2019 members paid previous dues amounts, and some paid the new dues amounts. Prior to the member year 2019 dues increase, the last increase was in 2008.

†The membership approved the new dues category at the Annual Business Meeting on August 17, 2012. This increase went into effect for the 2013 membership year.

 The Student Membership category was split into two new categories: Graduate Student and Undergraduate Student. This change went into effect September 1, 2017.

The Board of Directors voted to discontinue mailing renewal forms in 2020.
